Evaluator Guidelines for CONTROL Evaluation for Dogs

- ♥ This evaluation for dogs must be administered by a Certified Behaviorist, Certified Dog Trainer, Certified Obedience Instructor, or AKC approved Canine Good Citizen Evaluator, and is to be fully and successfully completed before going on any supervised visits. The Control Evaluation and the Visit Evaluation must be administered by two different evaluators.
- ♥ Candidates for membership cannot evaluate their own pets.
- ♥ Your pet must be a minimum of one year old before beginning the certification process. If a rescue, re-homed or career change pet, it is strongly recommended you take a minimum of 6 months to bond with this pet and get to know its reactions in various situations.
- ♥ The LOAL Control Evaluation is to test the temperament of the dog and the amount of control that the handler has in various situations. These guidelines are meant to give the evaluator objective criteria and to make the test as consistent as possible in all parts of the country.
- ♥ All parts of the evaluation should be performed with the dog on a four foot leash. If the dog shows aggression towards any person or dog, the evaluation should be stopped and the dog disqualified. The handler may talk to the dog and encourage him, but no treats may be used during the evaluation. Additionally, no prong, pinch or electronic collars, of any kind, may be used

1. I have read and will abide by the LOAL Evaluator Guidelines, accompanying this form, when evaluating this team.

As an evaluator you have a responsibility of deciding whether or not this team is ready to begin their supervised visits. By signing off on a team you are acknowledging that the team has satisfactorily performed all required tasks on the Love on a Leash Control Evaluation. Be sure to include your CGC Evaluator # (if applicable) and include a business card in case you need to be contacted by National Love on a Leash.

2. Is the dog able to do a sit, lie down, heel with people close by, and come when called while on a leash?

The dog must sit and lie down at the handler's command. The handler may repeat the command, but no more than two times. It must be obvious that the dog is responding to the handler's command. A hand signal may be used, but no force, such as pulling down on the leash or pushing the dog into position. The dog should stay in position for at least three seconds before being released.

The dog should be able to heel by the owner's side while walking through a crowd. The dog must be under complete control without pulling on the leash. If the dog is pulling the handler or paying too much attention to other people, the dog should not pass. The criteria should not, however, be one of competitive obedience.

When called to come, the dog should go directly to the handler and not run past. This is not a test of "stay". If necessary, the evaluator may gently hold the dog in position until called - the dog does not need to remain in a sit position. The handler may coax the dog with his voice, but may not use the leash to bring him in.

3. Is the dog able to do a two minute down or sit/stay with the owner holding the leash?

The two minute stay may be done in either the sit or down position. It is the handler's choice. Whatever position the handler chooses, the dog should stay in that position the entire two minutes. The handler may stay close but must not hold the dog in position. He may encourage the dog with his voice. If the dog is sitting, he should not lie down and, if lying down, he should not sit up. The dog may move around in position, but not crawl or leave his spot. If the dog gets up or moves away, the evaluator should start the time again, but no more than two times.

4. Is the handler able to greet a friendly stranger who has a dog? Is the handler able to maintain control without the dog being aggressive or over stimulated?

The handler and dog should approach another dog and handler from a distance of about 20 feet, stop, shake hands, exchange brief pleasantries and then move on. (The neutral dog should be proofed prior to the test to make sure that he will remain calm). If, for some reason, the neutral dog reacts to the dog being tested, the test may be redone with another dog.

This will demonstrate that the dog can behave while the owner greets another person, who is also with a dog. The dog being tested may show casual interest, but must stay by the handler's side. The dog does not need to sit, but should not cross in front of or behind the handler. The handler may talk to their dog to encourage it.

5. Does the dog allow petting including having its head, ears, feet and tail touched?

The dog may sit, lie down, or stand. The owner should hold the dog. The evaluator should approach the dog in a calm, friendly manner, kneel in front or to the side of the dog and touch the dog's head, ears, run his hands down the dog's side, touch and very lightly squeeze the dog's paws and tail.

The dog should not shown signs of fear, aggression or shyness. He may move toward the tester, but must not lunge or jump. He may roll over onto his back, but should not wiggle too much. He must be under the control of the handler at all times. He may stand or lie down to receive attention. The dog should not struggle to the point of needing restraint when the tester checks the dog. The handler may talk to the dog while being handled by the evaluator.

6. Is the dog clean and well groomed?

The dog should be prepared for this evaluation as he would be for an actual visit. He should be clean and trimmed if necessary. His nails should be trimmed and filed so they will not easily scratch. He should be in good health and his teeth and ears should be clean and free of infection. He should be obviously well cared for.

7. Is the dog under control with people around, and able to walk on a loose leash without pulling?

The dog should be able to maintain composure when around other dogs and people. He should be attentive to his handler and not wanting to charge or jump. He should show interest in others, but not insist on attention. He should be able to walk on a leash without pulling.

8. Is the dog able to maintain composure when a stranger approaches in an erratic manner?

A person who is not known to the dog should approach the dog in an erratic manner. He may be wearing odd clothes, such as a long coat and a floppy hat. He could be on crutches or just stumbling. The handler may reassure his dog, but the dog must not lunge, cower, or attack. He may give a short bark, but must recover quickly.

9. Is mouthing, biting, dodging or aggression apparent?

The dog should not touch his teeth to skin or clothing, even in a playful manner. No growling or snarling should be allowed. Excessive shyness should not be apparent. Dodging should be a judgment call. Sometimes a dog may back away from a situation that may be uncomfortable for him. The intensity of the contact that causes the evasion should be noted and taken into account. A dog that demonstrates excessive shyness should not pass.

10. Does the dog show signs of fear, sound sensitivity, or shyness?

The test for sound sensitivity should consist of:

- ♥ Dropping a dog's stainless steel food dish or a non-breakable item on a hard surface
- ♥ Flapping a trash bag (an insert for a household trash can)

These should be done no closer than about five feet from the dog.

The dog may react or startle, but may not attack the object, bark, or cower away. He should recover within a couple of seconds.

Does the dog welcome attention and seem to enjoy it? If he tries to evade touch or show signs of stress, such as panting or obsessively licking his lips, he probably is not suitable, at this time, to be a therapy dog. This should be an enjoyable experience for the dog as well as the people he is visiting. If the dog does not pass, the handler should be encouraged to keep exposing the dog to new and different experiences (in a very positive way) and perhaps try again later.

11. Does the dog or owner appear to have any training difficulties or behavior problems that might interfere with its ability to work as a therapy team?

Are there areas that could use some work? These may be areas that would disqualify the dog for therapy dog work or they may just be something that the evaluator feels could be better. You may offer suggestions to help the handler better prepare the dog for therapy work.

Evaluator Guidelines for VISIT Evaluation for Dogs

- ♥ This evaluation is to be filled out by a Visit Captain, or an experienced LOAL therapy team. If there are no LOAL teams in your area, an approved experienced facility employee (i.e. Recreational Therapist or Activities Director, etc., that has been approved by National) may substitute as an evaluator who has supervised this team for at least five of the minimum 10 visit hours. Contact LOAL for approval of a substitute supervisor. It is preferred that a team in training pair up with a certified LOAL team for their supervised visits.
- ♥ The recommended ratio of supervisors to teams in training is one supervisor with one team in training or one supervisor and two teams in training (without supervisor's pet present).
- ♥ Candidates for membership may not evaluate their own pets.
- ♥ The LOAL Visit Evaluation is to evaluate the team and the amount of control the handler has in various situations. These guidelines are meant to give the evaluator objective criteria and to make the evaluation as consistent as possible in all parts of the country.

1. On how many visits have you observed this therapy team?

In order to sign this evaluation form, you must have observed this team for at least five of the mandatory 10 hours. This form cannot be signed off until after the minimum of 10 hours has been completed. If a team begins their supervised visits with you, and completes 5 visits with you, then goes to another facility to complete their 10 hours, the team must come back to you for their last visit so you can officially sign them off after their minimum 10 hours.

Additionally, if you do not feel this team is ready to be signed off after 10 hours, you may request additional visits under your supervision. Currently, there are two additional blank lines on the Supervised Visit Log for this reason. You may ask the team in training for more than two additional visits if needed. If you do ask for additional training/supervision, do not sign the Visit Evaluation until the team is ready to be signed off.

2. Does the dog seem to like and relate well to people?

The dog should look relaxed and have happy presence. The dog's tail (for breeds that have them) should be relaxed, not tucked between their hind legs. A tucked tail may be a sign of fear, lack of confidence, or an indication that the dog may be unhappy.

3. Is the dog under control of the handler when it interacts with others?

The dog should be at the handler's side or just slightly in front of the handler. Additionally, in the event something were to happen, is the handler paying attention to the dog and ready to intervene or correct the dog if needed? The handler should never be so engrossed in conversation, that he/she does not know what the dog is doing at all times.

4. Is the dog able to walk on a leash without pulling?

The dog should be on a loose 4' leash. If the leash is taut, then the dog is pulling and the handler is being controlled by the dog. The leash should be relaxed, and the dog should be by the handler's side or just slightly in front of the handler, not 4' in front.

5. Is the handler able to get the dog close enough to people during visits?

No matter what size dog, the handler should be able to get the dog close enough to those in a manual or electric wheelchair, next to walkers, and raised or lowered beds. There are times people will be sitting in corners, or in physical therapy, or rooms that are small and have lots of medical equipment around them. The handler should be able to get the dog close enough for petting in any of these situations. It could be by picking up your dog (smaller breeds), or kindly asking if a walker can be moved for a moment for a visit. If you do move any furniture, be sure to place it in the same position it was in beforehand and sanitize your hands if applicable.

6. Is the handler able to initiate conversations with people and stimulate interest in the dog?

It can be difficult at times to strike a conversation with a complete stranger. However, while doing therapy work this will more than likely occur at each visit. Can the handler walk up to a person and talk to them? Does the handler attempt to converse with those who do not wish to speak or are unable to speak?

7. Based on your observations, do you feel this team is a good candidate for pet therapy at this time?

Taking in to consideration all of the questions, does this team appear ready to be on their own without any further supervision? If you do not feel the team is ready, additional visits should be requested by you and under your supervision.

8. Is there any behavior you would like them to work on that would not disqualify this team for therapy work?

Some examples could be but are not exclusive:

- ♥ The dog or handler is a bit shy and could use more training.
- ♥ The dog is fine around a manual wheelchair but is a bit uncertain around electric wheelchairs.
- ♥ The handler is still working on certain sound sensitivity issues
