In the Event of an Incident

What is an Incident?

An incident can be a wide range of things. Examples may include, but are not limited to, a dog barks and startles a patient who stumbles or falls. A dog growls or lunges at another dog or person. A dog accidentally bumps or scratches a person while doing a “paws up” on the side of a bed or wheelchair. A dog shows aggression towards another pet. In any instance, if you have any doubt, fill out an Incident Report.

Even if an incident appears minor, it should be documented in the event it becomes more serious in the future, such as an infection from a scratch.

For any violations or concerns with a member/team not following our Membership Guidelines, please contact Love on a Leash® at info@loveonaleash.org.

In the event of an incident:

- ♥ Remain calm.
- ♥ If the incident involves an injury, control your pet and get help for the injured person(s). Never leave or tie your pet to furniture or equipment. Volunteers should never move or give medical aid to an injured person. Only Facility staff should be the ones to provide medical treatment to the injured person. Only Facility staff should be the ones to provide treatment to the injured person(s), even if the treatment is as simple as applying a Band-Aid.
- ♥ Before leaving, report the incident to your facility contact person so the injury can be documented. Most facilities have accident or incident report forms. You must complete all required facility paperwork ~~for the facility~~, in addition to the required Love on a Leash® Incident Report. If an Incident Report is being submitted due to a pet that is reactive to either a person or animal while on a Love on a Leash® visit, or if a team is out of compliance with our Guidelines, then the facility will not need to be notified. Regardless, all other steps must be completed and submitted.
- ♥ The National Board of Directors for Love on a Leash® will evaluate the Incident Report. The Board reserves the right to take any appropriate measures as needed, including but not limited to, termination of membership.
- ♥ In the case of pet aggression or injury, the involved parties may not go on any Love on a Leash® visits until National Love on a Leash provides a written resolution.
- ♥ If you have any questions, call (760) 740-2326.

Do not write below this line. For Love on a Leash® Board only.
